MOTIVATION FOR DEEP LAYERS

Hypothetically, it has been shown that a feedforward neural network with one layer is good enough for anything. However, that layer might be preposterously large. The motivation for deep networks is to have the same effect with a managable number of units.

Chris Albon